Write a short summary (just a few typed pages) of the article, “Financial Intermediation and Macroeconomic Analysis,” by Michael Woodford on our reading list. In particular, explain how he modifies the conventional IS-MP model to incorporate financial frictions. To keep it short, you might choose between discussing how the extension is motivated or how it is used to explain the macroeconomic effects of a credit crisis.