Behavior

In the following section, the reader and listener, as well as members of the audience, would be expected to follow certain symbols. Certain symbols will be used to describe the interaction between symbols. The symbols used will be explained in the section that follows.

Descriptive Spheres

The descriptive spheres include the participant's perspective, the listener's perspective, and the audience's perspective. These spheres are used to describe the interaction between symbols. The symbols used will be explained in the section that follows.

The exchange is considered to be directed by the listener and the audience. The exchange is considered to be directed by the listener and the audience.
